

information on the training

access control by nubicon cloud based and reduced into the new age of security systems

The aim of the training is to show you how nubicon works. You will learn what cloud-based access control means, what advantages it offers and what measures have been taken to ensure the security of nubicon.

You will get an overview of which functions nubicon has and where nubicon can be used accordingly, so that after the training you will be able to use nubicon, put it into operation and advise interested parties.
